

Los Angeles police officers use CompStat maps like these to plot the location of reported crimes and police activities in a particular area during a particular time—in this case, gang-related crimes and narcotics arrests in the Rampart area during the period beginning June 22 and ending July 19, 2003.